

MANY VOICES: DIGITAL STORYTELLING

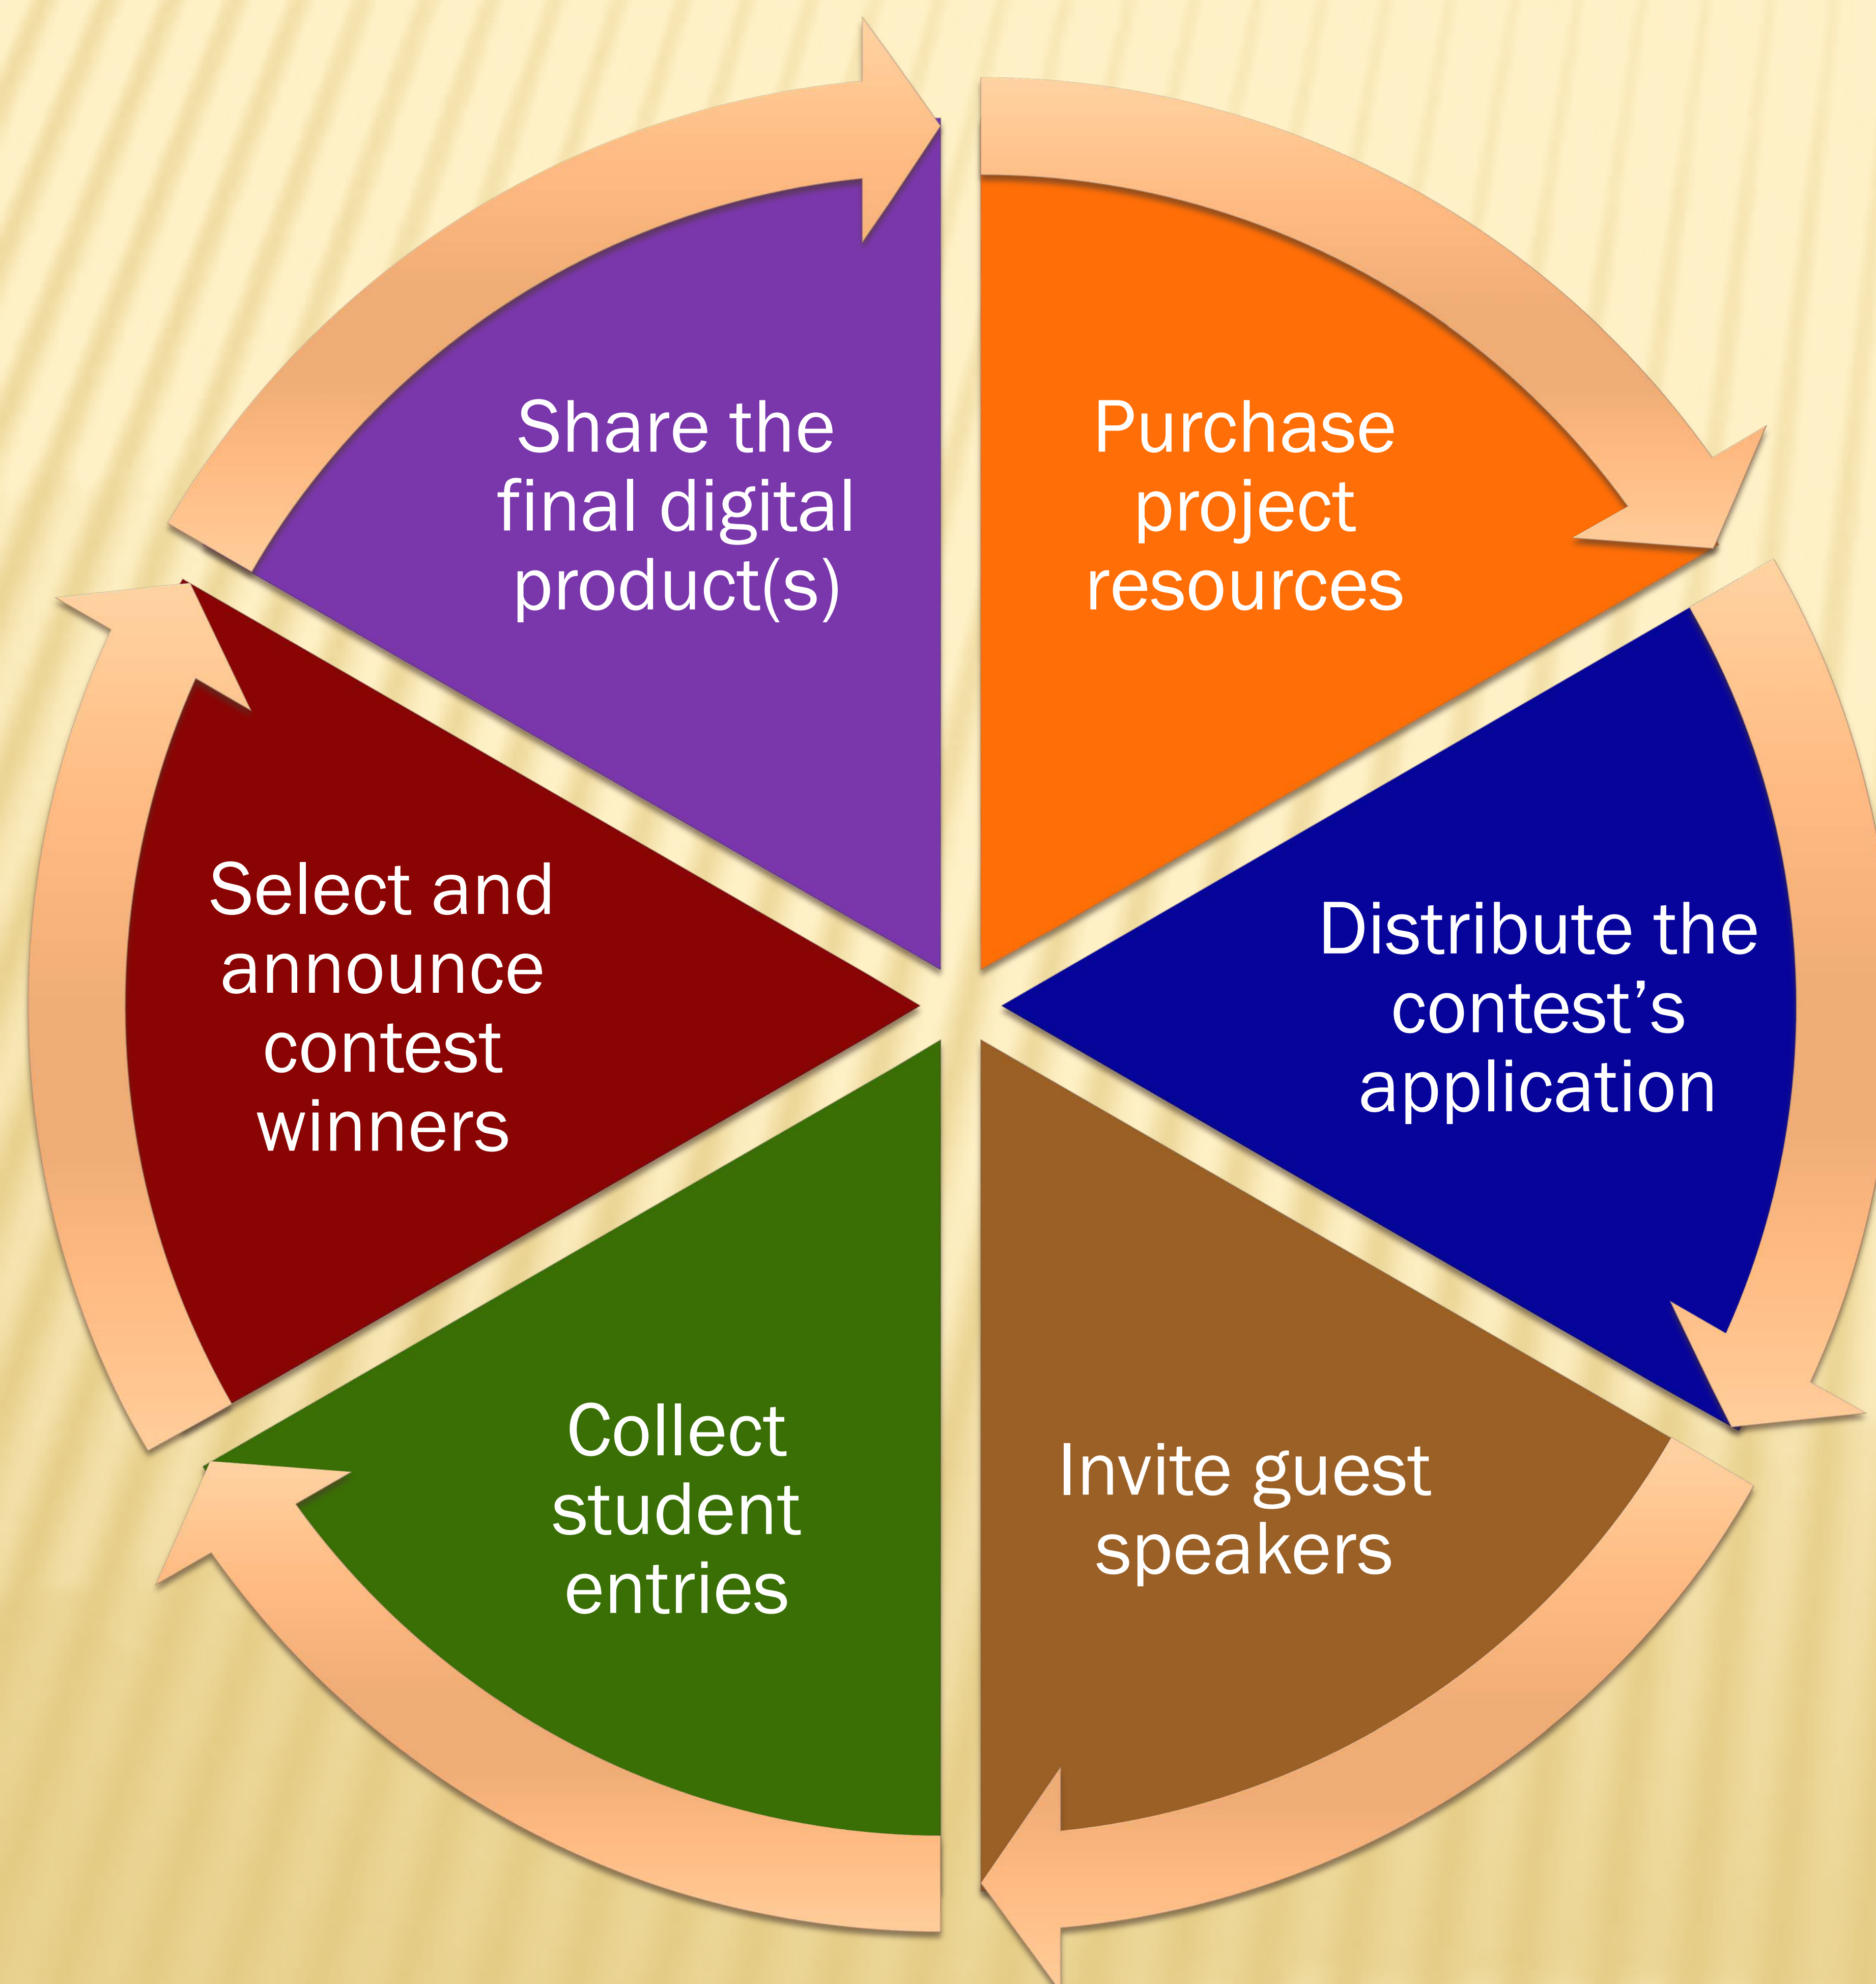

Presenters: Dr. Andrew McFeaters (North Campus English Faculty) and Dr. Billy Jones (South Campus English Faculty)

FACULTY INNOVATION GRANT

funded by the Aspen Institute

The Process

North Campus' Writes of Spring (WoS) and South Campus' Festival of Music, Film, Literature and Art (FMFLA) collaborated to hosted a college-wide project, Many Voices: Digital Storytelling. Students submitted works in the areas of music, film, art, and writing related to the theme of immigration. The collaboration motivated students to think critically about a world issue and how it could be mediated through the Arts & Letters.

Evaluation Data ("Strongly Agree" Responses) N=68

- 95%: "The project allowed me to express my creative identity."
- 75%: "The technology resources aided me in the project."
- 100%: "I was able to connect with the project's theme."
- 80%: "The planned workshops were helpful in completing the project."
- 90%: "The project encouraged me to be a part of the college community."
- 100%: "I would recommend this project to a peer."